FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
CCPA will be “Taking Care of Christmas” December 4

CODY, WY (November 7, 2022)— For the eighth consecutive season, Cody Center for the Performing Arts will be “Taking Care of Christmas” to benefit Cody Holiday Helpers. The show, which features dance and music to celebrate the season, will take place on Sunday, December 4 at 5 pm at the Wynona Thompson Auditorium. Admission to the performance is Pay-What-You-Can with all proceeds benefiting Cody Holiday Helpers. Attendees are also encouraged to bring a new, unwrapped gift that will be given to a local child or senior in need for Christmas.

“The staff and students of Cody Center are dedicated to giving back to our community,” says Director Angie McKenzie. “This annual fund-raiser is one of our favorite ways to do so. With a variety of dance styles featured and so many Christmas music favorites, Taking Care of Christmas is a fun family-friendly event to celebrate the season.”

Taking Care of Christmas features CCPA Company dancers as well as advanced level students, ages five and up. With a guest appearance by the CHS Jazz Band and a few “Dad” dancers, the show is sure to be fun and entertaining. CCPA’s Christmas celebrations continue through the week with performances from our younger dancers “in-studio.” These performances will take place December 5 - 8 at both the Cody Center for Performing Arts and the Cody Center for Gymnastics. Toys and items for donation can be dropped off during these performances as well. For a full schedule of our In Studio Christmas Festival, visit www.codyperformigarts.com.

Cody Center for the Performing Arts has been a part of the Big Horn basin for 39 years offering dance instruction for children and adults ages 2 and up. Classes include creative movement, ballet, pointe, tap, jazz, modern, hip-hop and acro-dance. CCPA is home to Studio Theatre at CCPA and has recently expanded to offer gymnastics at the Cody Center for Gymnastics and Acrobatic Arts. All students of any ability are welcome in all of Cody Center’s programs and will learn and grow in a positive, nurturing and structured environment that is fun, safe and inclusive.

Holiday Helpers is a local organization that has been helping Cody families and Seniors for over 20 years. For more information about how you can get involved contact Jaque Sims at 307-899-4936 or visit their Facebook page: facebook.com/CodyHolidayHelpers
