

Drew Murray
Music/Creative Movement

Drew Murray (Music and Creative Movement): Drew Murray recently earned her Masters in Music Education at MSUB. She received her undergraduate degree from the University of Wyoming where she enjoyed performing and competing with several groups both in the US and internationally. She discovered her love for opera in undergrad and continues to participate in theatre in her home town of Cody and in Billings. Drew has appeared locally in Cody Community Theatre productions and played the role of “C” in Studio Theatre’s 2020 production of Three Tall Women. She teaches private voice lessons in the Cody area and loves exploring the unique vocal qualities each of her students possess. Drew has a son, Finn and a dog named Winston. Drew is currently accepting adult and youth voice students at the Cody Center for the Performing Arts.
